The One-Price Dry-Goods Emporium.

Principle in business is something shoppers should always look for in any house they deal with, for if that is lacking you can have no confidence in advertisements of such houses. We pride ourselves on having every article in sufficient quantities, and when we tell you of such and such bargains you can depend on finding the goods here. No hourly sales, but for all day, so that the late comers will be treated as well as the early ones. Read our SPECIALS for this week, ponder over them carefully, and then act.

BEDFORD CITY.

A Beautiful Custom Observed—Social and Other Notes.

BEDFORD CITY, May 1.—(Special.)—The beautiful and very ancient custom of celebrating the advent of the month of May was observed to-day by a number of lassies and children, who arranged the treasures of the field, forest, and garden in baskets and garlands and secretly placed them at the doors of their friends, with a card of remembrance and affection. Invalids and those who are debarred the pleasure of roaming abroad and enjoying the lavish munificence of a Father's tender care in the gifts of flowers were the special recipients of these souvenirs, and many a sad heart was made glad by the preity custom.

Mr. Carr M. Maupin died at his home, about a mile distant, at the advanced age of St years. He was an uncle of Hon. Addison Maupin, of Henrico, and father of Robert Maupin, who about fifteen years age was killed by a negronamed Peter Wright. This negro surfered the death pensity for his crime, and was the last person executed in Bedford, and the second since the war.

Colonel Joseph Mayo, of Lancaster, ex-Treasurer of Virginia, who has been in ill health for some months, is slightly better. He will shortly remove his family to Westmoreland to reside permanently.

Lancaster county, for the zecond time of late, has lost a citizen by drowing. On Sunday last, about 1 A. M., Mr. C. L. Conklin, living at Half-Way Point, on the Eastern Branch of the Corrotoman, was called to the water's edge by distressing cries. Near the shore he found young Walter Walker in a swamped skiff. He was dragged out almost insensible. He didn't seem to remember anything, but it was learned that he and his older brother. Thomas, had been drinking till midnight at the saloon near here, and had been put in their boat while drunk and snoved off. Thomas Walker's body has not as yet been found. He was 25 years of age, and leaves a wife and several little children.

Governor O'Ferrall and his party came into this port Thursday afternoon on the State police-boat Chesapeake. The entire party visited old Christ church ('King' Carter's church), which is but two miles distant. They were much charmed with their visit, and, as all visitors do, expressed deep regrets that the tombs and church had not been better kept from the vandal's hand.

Wedding in Southampton.

SUFFOLK, VA., May 1.—(Special.)—One of the most elaborate weddings that have taken place in Southampton county occurred on Thursday night, April 29th, the high contracting parties being Mr. W. Benjamin Sebrell, of Silverton, and Miss Annie Little, daughter of Mrs. Fannie Little, who lives near Courtland, but formerly of Sufolk, the bride having been a student at Suffolk College. The marriage was a full-dress function, and took place at Trinity Methodist church at 7:30 P. M., in the presence of a very large audience, Rev. C. C. Wertenbaker officiating. The bride was dressed in white satin, with veil and orange-blossoms, and carried a handsome bouquet. It was a "rainbow wedding," the lady attendants being dressed in white organide, trimmed with vari-colored ribbons of rainbow hues. Miss Luia Earham, one of Southampton's most attractive belies, who is well known and popular in Suffolk, was maid of honor. The bride and groom are quite young—the former being its years of age, and the latter a few months older. After the ceremony at the church was concluded the bridal party repaired to the home of the bride's mother, some six miles distant, where an elegant reception was held from 9 to 1 o'clock. The popularity of Mr. and Mrs. Sebrell was attested by the large number of handsome bridal presents of which they were rectpients. Wedding in Southampton.
